

Contents

Acknowledgments	VII
Introduction	I
Part I	37
Chapter 1	39
“Bibi and Her Mother Are Witches” TV Favorites, Everyday Life and Identity
Chapter 2	77
“I Would Like to Be Son Goku” Typical Relationships with Favorite Characters
Chapter 3	109
“Now I Know That Girls Are Allowed to Do That Too” How Girls Use Media Characters to Construct Their Identities
Chapter 4	141
“But Somehow you Always Work Your Way up Again” Boys and Their Heroes
Part II	173
Chapter 5	175
Who Are Children’s Favorite TV Characters? The Results of Representative Studies Between 2005 and 2013
Chapter 6	189
What Makes a TV Character a Favorite with Boys and Girls? An Attempt at Quantifying Utility Values

Part III	239
Chapter 7 “Because He Is the Funniest” The Fascination with SpongeBob SquarePants	241
Chapter 8 “Sometimes I Think I Could Be so Quick and Strong” The Fascination with Dragon Ball Z	269
Chapter 9 “Everyone Can Find His or Her Place in Life” The Fascination with Avatar: The Last Airbender	295
Chapter 10 “The Series Is the Way It Could Be in Real Life” The Fascination with Hannah Montana	331
Chapter 11 “She’s so Pretty and Pink” The Fascination with Princess Lillifée	359
Chapter 12 “To See How They Progress and Develop” The Fascination with Germany’s Next Top Model	379
Conclusion	415
Chapter 13 Television Heroes and Heroines: Helping Girls and Boys to Grow up Healthy
Index of Programs	441
List of Works Cited	445