

Contents

Preface	vii
1 Economics With and Without the Law	1
1.1 The Need for Economic Governance	1
1.2 Economics Taking the Law for Granted	2
1.3 “Lawlessness and Economics” in Context	5
1.4 Law and Economics	9
1.5 Economics in the Shadow of the Law	10
1.6 Other Institutions of Economic Governance	12
1.7 Some Basic Analytical Apparatus	14
1.8 Approach of the Book	21
2 Private Ordering in the Shadow of the Law	25
2.1 Issues and Empirical Research	25
2.2 Bargaining When the Law is a Backstop	29
2.3 Relational and Formal Contracts	32
2.4 Arbitration and Information	40
2.5 Assessment and Prospects	48
2.6 Mathematical Appendix	50
3 Relation-Based Contract Enforcement	59
3.1 Issues and Empirical Research	59
3.2 Relation-Based and Rule-Based Governance	65
3.3 Limits of Relation-Based Governance	67
3.4 Related Theoretical Models	76
3.5 Assessment and Prospects	78
3.6 Mathematical Appendix	86
4 Profit-Motivated Contract Enforcement	97
4.1 Issues and Empirical Research	97
4.2 The Structure of the Model	101
4.3 Information Intermediaries	103
4.4 Enforcement Intermediaries	107
4.5 Assessment and Prospects	110
4.6 Mathematical Appendix	111

5	Private Protection of Property Rights	125
5.1	Issues and Empirical Research	125
5.2	Production and Protection under Anarchy	131
5.3	For-Profit Private Protection	133
5.4	A Predatory State and Its Citizens	138
5.5	Assessment and Prospects	143
5.6	Mathematical Appendix	144
6	Conclusion	149
6.1	Implications for Institutions and Policies	149
6.2	Implications for Future Research	153
	References	155
	Index	163