

Contents

Notes on contributors	viii
Acknowledgments	x
Introduction – debates about methods: from linguistic philosophy to philosophical naturalism MATTHEW C. HAUG	I
PART I
Naturalism: varieties and viability	27
1 What is naturalism? TIMOTHY WILLIAMSON	29
2 Why I am a naturalist ALEX ROSENBERG	32
3 The unclarity of naturalism TIMOTHY WILLIAMSON	36
4 Can naturalism save the humanities? ALEX ROSENBERG	39
5 On naturalism in the Quinean tradition JEFFREY W. ROLAND	43
6 Liberal naturalism: Wittgenstein and McDowell MARIE MCGINN	62
7 Naturalism on the Sydney Plan JENANN ISMAEL	86

PART II

Methods in metaphysics and epistemology 105

- 8 The easy approach to ontology: a defense 107
AMIE L. THOMASSON
- 9 Metaphysical knowledge 126
E.J. LOWE
- 10 Three dogmas of metaphysical methodology 145
JESSICA WILSON
- 11 The poverty of conceptual analysis 166
DAVID PAPINEAU
- 12 Is there room for armchair theorizing in epistemology? 195
HILARY KORNBLITH
- 13 Methods in analytic epistemology 217
KIRK LUDWIG

PART III

Methods in philosophy of language and philosophy of mind 241

- 14 The possibility of a naturalistic Cartesianism regarding intuitions and introspection 243
GEORGES REY
- 15 Linguistic intuitions are not “the voice of competence” 268
MICHAEL DEVITT
- 16 Philosophical and empirical approaches to language 294
BARRY C. SMITH
- 17 The first-person perspective and its relation to natural science 318
LYNNE RUDDER BAKER
- 18 Phenomenological methods in philosophy of mind 335
DAVID WOODRUFF SMITH

19	Some Husserlian reflections on the contents of experience	353
	MATTHEW RATCLIFFE
PART IV
Methods in ethics and aesthetics		379
20	Intuitions and experimental philosophy: comfortable bedfellows	381
	NEIL LEVY
21	Beyond the experience machine: how to build a theory of well-being	398
	VALERIE TIBERIUS
22	Ethics makes strange bedfellows: intuitions and quasi-realism	416
	MATT BEDKE
23	On getting out of the armchair to do aesthetics	435
	GREGORY CURRIE
	Index	451