

Contents

Preface	9
Abbreviations	11
Introduction	19
Chapter I: Preliminary Issues	33
1. The History of Discussions Concerning the Authenticity of the Letters to the Thessalonians	33
1.1. Denying the Authenticity of Both Letters	34
1.2. The Authors Accepting Authenticity of 1 Thess but Denying the Authenticity of 2 Thess	36
1.2.1. The Eschatology of 2 Thess 2, 1–12 Contradicts that Found in 1 Thess 4, 13–5, 11	36
1.2.2. Literary Relations between 2 Thess and 1 Thess	40
1.2.3. A Problem of 2 Thess 3, 17 – “I, Paul write this greetings in my own hand”	41
1.2.4. The Difference in Tone between 1 Thess and 2 Thess	42
1.2.5. The Need for a Holistic Argument against the Authenticity of 2 Thess	44
2. Conclusion	48
Chapter II: Events Preceding the Parousia	51
1. Motifs of Vigilance and Deception	51
1.1. The Motif of Vigilance	52
1.1.1. Christians	52
1.1.2. Non-Christians	82
1.2. Motif of Deception	97
1.2.1. Deceiving of Christians	98

1.2.2. Deceiving of non-Christians	111
2. The Man of Lawlessness and the Restrainer	117
2.1. The Man of Lawlessness	117
2.1.1. The Man of Lawlessness and His Nature	118
2.1.2. Works of the Man of Lawlessness	121
2.1.3. Revelation of the Man of Lawlessness	128
2.1.4. The Son of Destruction	129
2.2. The Restrainer	138
2.2.1. Analysis of Important Terms	139
2.2.2. The Figure of the Restrainer	141
2.2.3. Identification of the Restrainer	143
3. Conclusion	161
Chapter III: Events Connected with the Parousia	167
1. Motif of Surprise	167
1.1. Christians	168
1.1.1. "Times and dates"	168
1.1.2. "You know very well"	170
1.1.3. "Like a thief in the night"	171
1.2. Non-Christian	178
1.2.1. "Peace and security"	178
1.2.2. "Destruction will come on them suddenly"	180
1.2.3. "As labor pains in a pregnant woman"	182
2. Description of Events Associated to Coming of the Lord	185
2.1. An Order	185
2.2. The Voice of an Archangel	191
2.3. The Sound of the Trumpet of God	204
2.4. Descent from Heaven	211
2.5. Rising from the Dead	214
2.6. "Be taken up in the clouds"	223
2.7. "To meet Lord in the air"	229
3. Equality of Living and the Dead on the Day of Parousia	235
3.1. The Coming of the Lord	235
3.2. Those Who Fall Asleep	245

3.3. Those Who Remain Alive	250
3.4. "Together with them"	254
4. Conclusion	265
 Chapter IV: Paul's Eschatological Concept in the Thessalonians Correspondence	 271
1. Eschatological and Apocalyptic Motives in the Letters to the Thessalonians and in the Intertestamental Literature	272
1.1. Similarities	276
1.1.1. Similarities of Motifs	277
1.1.2. Similarity or Dependence?	279
1.2. Differences	281
1.2.1. Paul's Changes to Eschatological Motifs Occurring in the Intertestamental Literature.	282
1.2.2. Original Pauline Eschatological Motifs	304
1.3. Paul's Use of Eschatological Motifs	308
2. The Problem of the Unity of Eschatology in the Letters to the Thessalonians	311
2.1. Eschatology or Eschatological Motifs in 1–2 Thess	312
2.1.1. Dualism	312
2.1.2. The Time and Seasons	314
2.1.3. Parousia / the Day of the Lord	315
2.1.4. The Resurrection	316
2.1.5. The Judgment	317
2.1.6. Salvation	318
2.1.7. Conclusion	319
2.2. A Different Way of Using Eschatological Motifs in 1 Thess and 2 Thess	321
2.3. An Assessment of the Validity of Claims about Differences in the Eschatology of 1 Thess and 2 Thess	325

Summary	329
Bibliography.....	333
Indexes.....	365
Index of Biblical Passages	365
Index of Dead Sea Scrolls Passages	379
Index of the Old Testament Psuedepigrapha Passages.....	382
Index of Topics	388
Index of Authors	388