

Contents

|  |           |
|--|-----------|
| Acknowledgements  | vii       |
| Notes on Contributors   | viii      |
| Traces, Dis/Continuities, Complicities: An Introduction toHolocaust Literature   | 1         |
| Current Research  | 25 |
| 1 A Genre of Rupture: The Literary Language of the HolocaustVictoria Aarons   | 27        |
| 2 Questions of Truth in Holocaust Memory and TestimonySue Vice  | 47        |
| 3 After Epic: Adorno's Scream and the Shadows of LyricDavid Miller  | 65        |
| 4 Relationships to Realism in Post-Holocaust Fiction:Conflicted Realism and the Counterfactual Historical NovelJenni Adams  | 81        |
| 5 Theory and the Ethics of Holocaust RepresentationMichael Bernard-Donals   | 103       |
| 6 'Don't You Know Anything?': Childhood and the HolocaustAdrienne Kertzer   | 121       |
| 7 Holocaust Postmemory: W. G. Sebald and Gerhard RichterBrett Ashley Kaplan and Fernando Herrero-Matoses  | 139       |
| 8 Narrative Perspective and the Holocaust Perpetrator:Edgar Hilsenrath's The Nazi and the Barber andJonathan Littell's The Kindly OnesErin McGlothlin | 159       |
| 9 Holocaust Literature and the TabooMatthew Boswell   | 179       |
| 10 Holocaust Literature: Comparative PerspectivesStef Craps   | 199       |

Contents

|    |  |     |
|----|--|-----|
| 11 | Depoliticizing and Repoliticizing Holocaust MemoryRichard Crownshaw | 219 |
|    | New Directions in Holocaust Literary Studies                                   | 237 |
|    | Annotated Bibliography  | 265 |
|    | Glossary of Major Terms and Concepts                                    | 297 |
|    | Index   | 335 |