

Contents

Citation Information	vii
Notes on Contributors	ix
Part I	1
1. Introduction to Part I: Medical anthropology in Europe: shaping the field Elisabeth Hsu and Caroline Potter with vignette by Anita Hardon and Claire Beaudevin	3
2. Alien origins: xenophilia and the rise of medical anthropology in the Netherlands Sjaak van der Geest with vignette by Sylvie Fainzang	11
3. Itineraries and specificities of Italian medical anthropology Tullio Seppilli	19
4. Before and after fieldwork: ingredients for an ethnography of illness Gilbert Lewis with vignette by Jean Benoist	29
5. What about Ethnomedizin ? Reflections on the early days of medical anthropologies in German-speaking countries Ruth Kutalek, Verena C. Münzenmeier and Armin Prinz with vignettes by Hansjörg Dilger, Peter van Eeuwijk, and Bernhard Hadolt	41
Part II	53
6. Introduction to Part II: Medical anthropology in Europe – quo vadis? Elisabeth Hsu	55
7. Chronicity and control: framing ‘noncommunicable diseases’ in Africa Susan Reynolds Whyte	67
8. ‘I am also a human being!’ Antiretroviral treatment in local moral worlds Dominik Mattes	79
9. ‘When there were only gods, then there was no disease, no need for doctors’: forsaken deities and weakened bodies in the Indian Himalayas Serena Bindi	89
10. Second nature: on Gramsci’s anthropology Giovanni Pizza	99

CONTENTS

- | | |
|--|-----|
| 11. Of divinatory connaissance in South-Saharan Africa: the bodiliness of perception, inter-subjectivity and inter-world resonance
René Devisch | 111 |
| 12. Health care decisions by Sukuma ‘peasant intellectuals’: a case of radical empiricism?
Koen Stroeken | 123 |
| Index | 133 |