

Table of Contents

Preface	VII
---------------	-----

Chapter 1. The History of Hellish Rhetoric

I. Why Hell?: The Historical Relevance of the Rhetoric of Eternal Punishment.....	1
II. Hell and the History of Religions	3
III. Beyond Genesis: Ideology, Fluidity, and the History of Interpretation	8
IV. A Word about the Terminology for Eternal Punishment ...	10
V. Plan of the Book	11

Chapter 2. Death, Judgment, and the Abode of the Dead as Malleable Rhetorical Tools in the Hebrew Bible

I. Introduction	14
II. Concepts of the Abode of the Dead in the Hebrew Bible...	17
a. All Dead Travel to a Common Place	19
b. The Place of the Dead as a Descriptor	23
i. Dark, Dusty and Generally Undesirable Place.....	23
ii. A Poetic Marker for Depth, or a Remote Place	24
iii. The Opposite of the Heavens	24
III. The Abode of the Dead as a Rhetorical Tool in the Hebrew Bible	25
a. Vivid or Dramatic Imagery: The Abode of the Dead as Spectacle or Metaphor.....	25
b. Sorting the Dead: The Abode of the Dead Signifying Judgment or Punishment.....	28
c. The Abode of the Dead as a Tool for Moral Formation in the Hebrew Bible.....	33

i. The Life and Death Contrast in the Hebrew Bible...	33
ii. The Abode of the Dead as Ethical Motivation	36
IV. Conclusion	41

Chapter 3.

Learning from the Dead: Hades as an Expression of Paideia in Greek and Latin Literature

I. Introduction	43
II. Greek and Roman Rhetoric and Education: The Role of Ethical Instruction within Greek and Roman Paideia	44
a. Paideia as Rhetorical Training	44
b. Paideia and Early Christianity	48
c. Paideia as Cultural and Ethical Education	51
d. Ekphrasis : The Pedagogical use of Rhetoric in Transmitting Cultural Values	54
III. Greek and Roman Examples of Hell as Paideia	65
a. Prevalence of Homer and Virgil in Ancient School Texts	65
b. Visualizing Punishment: The Use of Ekphrasis in Depictions of Hades	67
i. The Katabasis.....	67
ii. Evidence of Ekphrasis : The Language of Perception	69
iii. Evidence of Ekphrasis : The Presence of Enargeia or “Vividness”	72
iv. Explicit Communication of the Didactic Function of the Ekphrasis	75
c. The Spectacle of Punishment as Paideia	77
IV. Conclusion	82

Chapter 4.

Periēgēsis?: The Journey through the Places of the Dead in Jewish Apocalyptic Literature

I. Introduction	83
II. The Genre of Geographic “Tours” in Jewish Apocalyptic Literature	85
III. The Rhetorical Function of “Tours”: Parallel to Periēgēsis of Greek and Latin Literature?	92
a. Spatial Differentiation: Directional Cues and Geographic Descriptions	94
b. Order and Meaning: Implicit Paideia in the Jewish Apocalypses	99
IV. Conclusion	107

Chapter 5.
A Choice Between Two Ways: The Rhetoric of Eternal Punishment in the New Testament

I.	Introduction	108
II.	Ekphrasis or Enargeia ?: Analyzing the Rhetoric of Description in the NT	109
III.	The Pedagogical Function of Eternal Punishment in the NT	112
	a. Mark 9:42-50	112
	b. Q 10,15 and 12, 4-5	117
	c. Luke	122
	d. James	126
	e. 2 Peter	128
	f. Revelation	131
IV.	Conclusion	137

Chapter 6.
The Pedagogical Role of Eschatological Judgment, Eternal Punishment, and the Afterlife in Matthew

I.	Introduction	138
II.	Education in Matthew: An Exercise in Community Formation	139
	a. Matthew's Audience	139
	b. Matthew's Interest in Paideia and the Formation of Ecclesia	143
III.	The Role of Apocalyptic Eschatology within Matthew's "Curriculum"	149
IV.	The Pedagogical Function of Eternal Punishment in Matthew	153
	a. Matthew's Use of Terminology	153
	b. Evidence of Ekphrasis : The Presence of Enargeia or "Vividness"	156
	c. Explicit Communication of the Didactic Function of the Ekphrasis	163
	d. The Description of Punishment as Paideia : Rhetoric of Ethical and Cultural Education	166
V.	Conclusion	173

Chapter 7.
The Pedagogical Function of Hell in the Early Christian Apocalypses and the Early Church

I. Introduction	174
II. Dating and Reception of Tours of Hell.....	175
III. Interpreting and Expanding the New Testament Picture of “Hell” in Early Christian Apocalypses.....	182
a. Interpreting Matthew in the Apocalypse of Peter	183
b. Reading Matthew and Paul together in the Apocalypse of Paul	189
c. Pleading for Mercy and Reinventing the Beatitudes in the Latin Vision of Ezra and the Greek Apocalypse of Ezra	196
d. “Biblical Theology” in the Greek Apocalypse of Mary	199
IV. The Pedagogical Function of Hell in the Early Christian Apocalypses.....	202
a. Evidence of Ekphrasis: Periēgēsis	202
b. Evidence of Ekphrasis: Language of Perception	205
c. Evidence of Ekphrasis: Enargeia or “Vividness”	207
d. The Spectacle of Punishment as Paideia : Explicit Communication of the Didactic Function of Ekphrasis	211
V. The Pedagogical Function of Hell in the Early Church Fathers.....	217
a. Chrysostom: Zeal in Appropriating Hell as the Heart of Christian Paideia	218
b. Augustine: Distinguishing Christian Paideia from the Tools of the Empire	220
VI. Conclusion	222

Chapter 8.
Conclusion: The Landscape of Hell and the Cultivation of Early Christianity

I. How did “Hell” Emerge as an Educational Tool for Early Christians?.....	224
II. Hell, What is it Good For?: Damnation and the Cultivation of Culture	228
III. Dante’s Spell: Reflections on Our Hellish Inheritance.....	230

Appendix A: Concepts of the Abode of the Dead in the Hebrew Bible	233
Appendix B: The Abode of the Dead as a Rhetorical Tool in the Hebrew Bible	240
Appendix C: Ekphrasis in Greek and Latin Texts that Deal with Hades extensively	247
Appendix D: Enargeia of “Hell” in the New Testament (apart from Matthew)	248
Appendix E: Enargeia of Eternal Punishment in Matthew	249
Appendix F: Eschatological Fire in Matthew	250
Appendix G: “Weeping and Gnashing of Teeth” in Matthew	252
Bibliography	255
Index of Ancient Sources	277
Index of Modern Authors	291
Subject Index	292