

Contents

JOHN A. BATEMAN, PAOLA EVANGELISTI ALLORI, VIJAY K. BHATIA
Evolution in Genre: Emergence, Variation, Multimodality 9

I. Emerging Genres

PAOLA CATENACCIO
The Evolution of Business Discourse and the Emergence of the Corporate Social Responsibility Paradigm:
An Investigation of CSR Reports 19

CINZIA GIGLIONI
Variation in Apologetic Strategies in Annual Company Reports:
Rhetorical Functions of Lexical-Syntactical Patterns 45

STEFANIA M. MACI
Investigating Variation in Medical Poster Abstracts 67

II. Genre Variability

VIJAY K. BHATIA
Managing Interdiscursive Space in Professional Communication ... 95

MICHELA GIORDANO
Trial Proceeding Transcripts as Genre:
Decontextualization and Recontextualization 115

GILLIAN MANSFIELD
Anything for a Laugh: Creating and Maintaining Humour from Script to Subtitling in the British TV Situation Comedy	139
CARMEN SANCHO GUINDA
Alignment Strategies and Genre Variation in Students' Graph Commentaries	167
FRANCA POPPI
From Business Letters to E-mails: Balancing Tradition and Change	191
MAURIZIO GOTTI / LARISSA D'ANGELO
Genre Variation in Mediation Practice: Traditional vs Online Processes	209

III. Multimodality in Genres

JOHN BATEMAN
Genre in the Age of Multimodality: Some Conceptual Refinements for Practical Analysis	237
CARMEN DANIELA MAIER
Transgeneric Multimodal Designs across Business and Academic Communication: the Case of Multimedia Kits	271
SANDRA PETRONI
Collaborative Writing and Linking: When Technology Interacts with Genres in Meaning Construction	289
LUISA CAIAZZO
Emerging Conventions in the Verbal Component of the 'About' Page of British University Websites	307

CHIARA DEGANO

Genre Variation in Electoral Campaigns:

Adaptation to the Audience in UK Posters and TV Debates 327

Notes on Contributors 357