

Contents

List of Illustrations	vii
Acknowledgements	ix
GIOVANNI CIANCI
Introduction: The Agon with the Bard	i
PART I The Shakespeherian Rags of High Modernism
MASSIMO BACIGALUPO
Yeats and Pound: A Poetics of Excess and Pastiche	21
JASON HARDING
Changing our Way of Being Wrong: T. S. Eliot's Shakespeare	39
CARLO PAGETTI
'Where there's a Will, there's a Way': The Dialogue between Virginia Woolf and Master William	59
GIOVANNI CIANCI
Modernist Interpreters of Shakespeare: Wyndham Lewis and G. Wilson Knight	77
PART II European Encounters
MARJORIE PERLOFF
Wittgenstein's Shakespeare	107

CLAUDIA CORTI

'As You Disguise Me': Shakespeare and/in Pirandello 125

SILVIA RIVA

In Hamlet's Path: Shakespearean Etchings in Laforgue and Tzara 149

GEORGE OPPITZ-TROTMAN

Shakespeare's 'Abandoned Cave': Bertolt Brecht and the Dialectic of 'Greatness' 169

VINCENZO RUSSO

Fernando Pessoa: A Peripheral Shakespearean Out of his Time 191

PART III Shakespeare's Irish Voice 207

LAURA PELASCHIAR

Joyce's Shakespeare 209

CAROLINE PATEY

Beckett's Shakespeare, or, Silencing the Bard 223

Annotated Bibliography 251

Notes on Contributors 271

Index 275