

CONTENTS

Preface

vii

PART I. INTRODUCTION	1
1. Prologue	3
2. Perspective	16

PART II. SITUATION AND SCARCITY	41
3. The Location of Opportunity and Benefit	43
4. Place and Economic Activity	60

PART III. THE "WHERE" OF ECONOMIC DECISIONS	73
5. Why a Location Has Some Activities and Not Others	74
6. Why an Activity Chooses Some Locations and Not Others	94
7. Systems of Activities at Systems of Locations	116

PART IV. LOCATIONAL ADVANTAGE	147
8. The Basis of Locational Well-being	148

9.	Environments and Locational Distinctiveness	163
10.	The Geography of Locational Advantage	188

PART V. INTERACTION AND DEPENDENCE 211

11.	The Locational Environment	212
12.	Linkages and Well-being	231
13.	Linkage and Vulnerability	256

PART VI. PUBLIC POLICY AND ECONOMIC PATTERNS 275

14.	Government as an Actor in an Economic-Geographic System	276
15.	Government as a Shaper of an Economic-Geographic System	311

PART VII. PLACE PLANNING AND WELL-BEING 345

16.	Objectives in Spatial Planning	347
17.	Evaluating the Prospects of a Place	371
18.	How a Place Changes Its Prospects	395
19.	The Implications of Place Planning	412

PART VIII. IN CONCLUSION 421

20.	Questions That Remain	422
-----	-----------------------	-----

Glossary	430
Bibliography	438
Credits	454
Index	458