

Contents

Volume III: Practices and Preoccupations

- |  |     |
|--|-----|
| 34. Introduction: The Discipline and Practice of Qualitative ResearchNorman K. Denzin and Yvonna S. Lincoln   | 1   |
| 35. Learning to Be a Qualitative Management ResearcherCatherine Cassell, Victoria Bishop, Gillian Symon,Phil Johnson and Anna Buehring                                 | 45  |
| 36. Getting In, Getting On, Getting Out, and Getting BackDavid Buchanan, David Boddy and James McCalman   | 67  |
| 37. Reflections on the Researcher-Researched Relationship: A WomanInterviewing MenTerry Arendell  | 85  |
| 38. Essai : Real-time Reflexivity: Prods to ReflectionKarl E. Weick  | 111 |
| 39. Towards an Integrative Reflexivity in Organisational ResearchLeah Tomkins and Virginia Eatough  | 117 |
| 40. Appealing Work: An Investigation of How EthnographicTexts ConvinceKaren Golden-Biddle and Karen Locke   | 139 |
| 41. The Philosophy and Politics of Quality in QualitativeOrganizational ResearchJohn M. Amis and Michael L. Silk  | 167 |
| 42. Objectivity and Reliability in Qualitative Analysis: Realist,Contextualist and Radical Constructionist EpistemologiesAnna Madill, Abbie Jordan and Caroline Shirley | 197 |
| 43. Whatever Happened to Organizational Anthropology? A Reviewof the Field of Organizational Ethnography andAnthropological StudiesS.P. Bate                        | 219 |
| 44. Working with Pluralism: Determining Quality inQualitative ResearchMark Easterby-Smith, Karen Golden-Biddle and Karen Locke  | 249 |
| 45. The Role of the Researcher: An Analysis of Narrative Positionin Organization TheoryMary Jo Hatch  | 263 |
| 46. The Professional Apprentice: Observations on Fieldwork Roles inTwo Organizational SettingsJohn Van Maanen and Deborah Kolb  | 289 |
| 47. In Defense of Being “Native”: The Case for InsiderAcademic ResearchTeresa Brannick and David Coghlan  | 323 |

48. Ethics and Ethnography	343
Robert Dingwall
49. Achieving Access to Management Reality	359
Evert Gummesson
50. Making Sense as a Personal Process	383
Judi Marshall
51. My Affair with the “Other”: Identity Journeys Across the Research–Practice Divide	389
Laura Empson	