

Contents

Preface	1
TRANSITION
Leonardo da Vinci and Fantastic Animals: Free Assembly of Shapes Sara Tagliagamba	5
The Threshold. An Iconological Analysis Amos Bianchi and Gabriela Galati	19
Charles Nodier's Fantastic World in Inès de Las Sierras Graciela Boruszko	29
The Alchemical Imaginary of Homunculi in Fullmetal Alchemist Minwen Huang	41
Metaphorical and Metonymical Meaning in The Lord of the Rings Thomas Kullmann	53
The Zone: Ontological or Epistemological Operator? Maria-Ana Tupan	63
TRANSGRESSION
Hybridity as the Source of the Monstrous in Three Short Stories by H. P. Lovecraft Alesya Raskuratova	77
Grotesque Desire: The Early Horror Films of David Cronenberg and the Limits of Morality Daniel Illger	89
Modern-Day Superheroes: Transgressions of Genre and Morality in Misfits Dana Frei and Lars Schmeink	99

“Love is a Psychopath”: The Postmodern Doppelgänger in Steven Moffat’s Jekyll Inken Frost	125
TRANSFORMING NARRATIVE
Good Fences Make Good Neighbours? On the Dialectics of Genre Formation and Hybridization in Contemporary Fantasy Fiction Dieter Petzold	141
Parody Upon Parody Upon Parody: Narrative Myth and Mythic Narration in the American Metafiction of the 1960s Michael Heitkemper-Yates	155
Deconstructing Dracula: The Vampire as Semiotic Body in Stephenie Meyer’s Twilight Nils Jablonski	167
Life Writing Projects in Posthuman Science Fiction Sarah Herbe	179
The Omega Legend: Or, How the Cyberpunk Discourse Infested the Zombie Genre Alexander Knorr	191
Contributors	201