
Contents

Meet the author	vii
Only got a minute?	viii
Only got five minutes?	x
Introduction	xiii
1 Postmodernisms	1
Postmodernism is everywhere	1
Pre-history	5
Modernity and Enlightenment	7
Modernity and modernization	9
In or after modernity?	10
Nothing new?	12
A distinction	13
Postmodernism's elasticity	14
2 Issues in 'high' and 'low' culture (I): architecture and literature	18
The demolition of modernist architecture	19
Literature: mind the gap	32
The cultural mix	41
3 Issues in 'high' and 'low' culture (II): visual art	49
A preliminary note	49
Make it new!	50
Playing among the ruins: a brief history of postmodernism in the art world	51
Modernism and the autonomy of art	57
Andy Warhol	62
The end of the art world as they know it?	65
4 The loss of the real	72
On television	73
Welcome to Planet Baudrillard	81
Baudrillard's influences	102
5 The deconstruction of meaning	114
Structuralism	114
Poststructuralism	124

The influence of deconstruction	143
Problems of meaning and value	149
6 Postmodern identities (I): transformations of the self	152
The changing nature of the self	153
The stylization of life	156
Identity in the city	158
Cyberpeople	161
The next sexual revolution?	164
You will never know the real me: Madonna	168
Masks of femininity	172
Identity as construction	175
7 Postmodern identities (II): theories of subjectivity	181
Michel Foucault: the invention of man	181
Let's talk about sex	185
The deconstructed self: Jacques Lacan	189
The dispersed subject	194
Is the postmodern condition schizophrenic?	201
The fiction of expression	203
8 Postmodern politics	217
Lyotard: when worlds collide	218
The transformation of Marxism	224
Postmodernism, truth and history	235
Postmodern space	236
Theorizing the city	243
Local versus global culture	245
Postcoloniality	250
Does postmodernism mean not believing in anything?
Some problems of cultural relativism	255
Post-postmodernism?	261
Timeline	265
Glossary	273
Taking it further	290
Index	295