

Contents

Preface vii

PART ONE • THEORETICAL AND METHODOLOGICAL REFINEMENTS OF THE STRUCTURAL PARADIGM 1

1. On the Assumptions of Structural Analysis: Revisiting Its Linguistic and Epistemological Premises 3
INO ROSSI
2. Anthropological Analytics 23
PIERRE MARANDA
3. Lévi-Strauss' Theory of Kinship and Its Empiricist Critics: An Anti-Needham Position 42
INO ROSSI
4. Transformational Processes and Models: With Special Reference to Mayo Indian Myth and Ritual 68
N. ROSS CRUMRINE
5. Verification in Structural Theory: A Linguist's Point of View 88
HARVEY ROSENBAUM

PART TWO • STRENGTHENING THE ETHNOGRAPHIC APPLICATION OF THE STRUCTURAL PARADIGM 111

6. A Small Problem of Fish Bones 113
CHARLES ACKERMAN
7. Shamanic Symbolism in Salish Indian Rituals 127
WOLFGANG G. JILEK AND LOUISE JILEK-AALL
8. The Lizard's Tail: An Ambiguity Analyzed 137
KENNETH MADDOCK

9. Myth and History in Ancient Peru 150
R. T. ZUIDEMA
10. Internal and External Constraints on Structure 176
FADWA EL GUINDI

PART THREE • REVISING AND EXTENDING THE STRUCTURAL PARADIGM 197

11. The Meaning of Nonsense (Structural Analysis of Clown Performances and Limericks) 199
PAUL BOUISSAC
12. A Semiological Analysis of Self-Decoration in Mount Hagen, New Guinea 214
ROGER NEICH
13. Myths, Infrastructures and History in Lévi-Strauss 232
MAURICE GODELIER

PART FOUR • CONCLUSION 263

14. On the "Scientific" Evidence for the Existence of Deep Structures and Their "Objective" and Mathematical Nature (A Training Session for Rodney Needham, Ronald Cohen, Peter Caws and Paul Chaney) 265
INO ROSSI
- Index 294