

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	vii
Introduction: Loving Kindness and Cultural Citizenship in the Jewish South	1
1 “To the Hebrews the World Is Indebted”: The Southern Roots of American Jewish Benevolence	24
2 “For the Honor of the Jewish People”: Gender, Race, and Immigration	55
3 “Virtue, Rectitude and Loyalty to Our Faith”: Jewish Orphans and the Politics of Southern Cultural Capital	81
4 “A Very Delicate Problem”: The Plight of the Southern Agunah	123
5 “None of My Own People”: Subsidizing Jewish Motherhood in the Depression-Era South	150
6 Sex, Race, and Consumption: Southern Sephardim and the Politics of Benevolence	183
Conclusion: Loving Kindness and Its Legacies	212
Notes	217
Selected Bibliography	257
Index	273
About the Author	278