
Contents

List of Figures and Tables	vii
Introduction	1
Section I Psychometric Theory and Method
1 Reliability of Tests: Practical Issues	5
2 The Validity of Psychological Tests	15
3 The Classical Model of Test Error	29
4 Standardising the Test	42
5 Rasch Scaling and other Scales	62
6 Computerised and Tailored Testing	77
7 Factor Analysis	93
8 Factor Analysis: Rotation of Factors and other Topics	115
9 Test Construction: The Criterion-keyed Method	127
10 Test Construction: Factor Analytic and Item Analytic Methods	134
11 Other Methods of Test Construction	154
Section II Types of Psychological Tests: Rationale and Problems
12 Intelligence Tests	171
13 Ability Tests	189
14 Aptitude and Attainment Tests	201
15 Personality Questionnaires	217
16 Projective and Objective Tests of Personality	242
17 Interest and Motivation Tests	267
18 Other Types of Psychological Tests	289
Section III The Use and Interpretation of Tests
19 Tests in Educational Psychology	311
20 Psychometric Tests in Clinical Psychology	328
21 Tests in Counselling and Guidance	360
22 Psychological Tests in Occupational and Industrial Psychology	373

Section IV Psychological Tests: Lists, Descriptions and Evaluations

23	Intelligence Tests	399
24	Ability, Aptitude and Attainment Tests	424
25	Personality Questionnaires	440
26	Projective and Objective Tests	479
27	Motivation and Interest Tests	518
28	Measures of Attitudes	530
29	Other Tests	551
30	Finale	567

Appendices

1	Statistical Formulae	571
2	Glossary	575
	References	581
	Name index	608
	Subject index	615