

Contents

Notes on contributors	page	vii
Acknowledgements		x
Introduction: sanctity as literature		1
Eva von Contzen
1 St Margaret and the literary politics of Scottish sainthood		18
Kate Ash
2 Good knights and holy men: reading the virtue of soldier-saints in medieval literary genres		38
Andrew Lynch
3 Englishing the saints in Robert Mannyng's Handlyng Synne		60
Kate Greenspan
4 Modelling holiness: self-fashioning and sanctity in late medieval English mystical literature		80
Jessica Barr
5 Body and soul: from doctrine to debate in medieval Welsh and Irish literature		96
Helen Fulton
6 Chaucer and hagiographic authority		116
Jennifer L. Sisk
7 Reading classical authors in Capgrave's Life of St Katherine		134
Sarah James
8 Lydgate's saintly poetics		151
Anke Bernau
9 Narrating vernacular sanctity: the Scottish Legendary as a challenge to the 'literary turn' in fifteenth-century hagiography		172
Eva von Contzen

10	Reforming sanctity: the Digby Mary Magdalen and Lewis Wager's Life and Repentaunce of Marie Magdalene	191
	Tamara Atkin
11	The humanist grammar of sanctity in the early Lives of Thomas More	209
	Anna Siebach Larsen
12	Afterword: calendar time in balade form	228
	Catherine Sanok
	Bibliography	245
	Index	271