

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements . . . . .	1
Preface . . . . .	5
1. Deletion in the Grammar of Natural Languages . . . . .	9
2. Free Deletion Transformations . . . . .	15
Review of the Traditional Arguments for Free Deletion . . . . .	15
Evaluation of the Traditional Arguments . . . . .	21
An Alternate System . . . . .	25
3. A Constraint on Optional Lexicalization: Chaining . . . . .	36
4. Deletion Path Phenomena . . . . .	57
The Phenomena . . . . .	58
The Rule . . . . .	62
Some Additional Data . . . . .	70
5. Controller Cross-Over . . . . .	80
Lakoff's PASSIVE/EQUI Constraint . . . . .	80
A Principled Explanation of the PASSIVE/EQUI Interaction . . . . .	82
Other Coreferential Deletion Transformations . . . . .	87
Other Permutation Rules . . . . .	92
Some Additional Data . . . . .	98
6. Identity of Sense Deletion . . . . .	108
Property I – Essential Variables . . . . .	110
Property II – Self-Inclusion . . . . .	112
Interpretation of the Results . . . . .	120
Bouton's Proposal . . . . .	123
A New Proposal: Double Partitions . . . . .	125
7. Conclusion . . . . .	132
Review of Some of the Results . . . . .	133
The Controller Cross-Over Cannot Be Stated within a Single Derivation . . . . .	142
Controller Cross-Over: A Transderivational Formulation . . . . .	145
References . . . . .	148