Contents

Introduction 7

1. Telecommunications
Philippe Quéau:
Virtual Communities: The Art of Presence 27
Maria Grazia Mattei:
Telematic Art 33
Ryohei Nakatsu:
Image/Speech Processing Adopting an Artistic Approach –
Toward Integration of Art and Technology 38

2. Scientific Visualization
Donna J. Cox:
What Can an Artist Do for Science: "Cosmic Voyage" IMAX Film 53
Przemyslaw Prusinkiewicz:
In Search of the Right Abstraction: The Synergy Between Art, Science, and Information Technology in the Modeling of Natural Phenomena 60
Demetri Terzopoulos:
Artificial Life for Computer Animation 69

3. Artificial Life
Thomas S. Ray:
Evolution as Artist 81
Louis Bec:
Artificial Life under Tension – A Lesson in Epistemological Fabulation . . . 92
Machiko Kusahara:
Transition of Concept of Life in Art and Culture from Automata to Network 99

4. Artists as Researchers
Michael Naimark:
Art ("and" or "versus") Technology – Some Personal Observations 123
Monika Fleischmann and Wolfgang Strauss:
Images of the Body in the House of Illusion 133
Christa Sommerer and Laurent Mignonneau:
Art as a Living System 148
Jeffrey Shaw:
Convergence of Art, Science and Technology? 162
Peter Weibel:
The Unreasonable Effectiveness of the Methodological Convergence of Art and Science 167

5. Chaos and Complex Systems
Gottfried Mayer-Kress:
Reflections of Chaos in Music and Art 183
Otto E. Rossler:
Can a Program Force the Programmer to Reply 193

6. Public Spaces
Toshiharu Itoh:
ICC (InterCommunication Center): The Matrix of Communication and Imagination 199
Hans-Peter Schwarz:
New Art Needs New Art Venues – Art, Technology and the Museum . . . 207
Peter Richards:
From London to Nagasaki – The Roots of Interactive Art @ the Exploratorium 215

7. Education of Art & Science
Itsuo Sakane :
The Historical Background of Science-Art and Its Potential Future Impact 227
Michael Klein:
The Evolution of Images Between Chaos, Art and New Media 235

8. Art & Science in Historical and Cultural Context
Cynthia Goodman:
Art and Technology: The Ineluctable Liaison 247
Erkki Huhtamo:
Seeing at a Distance – Towards an Archaeology of the "Small Screen" . . 262
Roy Ascott:
The Technoetic Dimension of Art 279

Biographies 291

Bibliography 307

Index 317