

Contents

INTRODUCTION.....	9
NOTE.....	23
I. THE HUMANIST BACKGROUND	25
1. Translation as Grammatical and Interpretive Process
2. Textual and Lexical Placement
3. Salutati and the 'More Pleasant Texture'
4. Leonardo Bruni: Translation as Illusion
5. Giannozzo Manetti and the Via Media
PART ONE
HORACE AND THE RHETORIC OF FAITH
II. FIDUS INTERPRES : READINGS AND MISREADINGS.....	57
1. An Early Misreading of Horace
2. The Preceptive Tradition
3. Giovanni Britannico: An Interpretive Option
4. Francesco Pedemonte: Translative Metaphor
5. Vincenzo Maggi: Literalism Legitimized
6. Pierre Gaultier: Injunction and Correction
7. Henricus Glareanus: The Philological Correction
8. Henri Estienne: The Contextual Correction
9. Marc-Antoine Muret: The Adverbial Missing Link
10. The Reappraisal
III. FIDUS INTERPRES : VERNACULAR CONTEXTS.....	91
1. Geoffroy Tory: A Syntactical Deformation
2. Jean Lefèvre: The Poetic Setting
3. Jean des Gouttes: Vestigial Readings
4. The Poetic Arts
5. Etienne Dolet: Contextual Detachment

PART TWO

THE LITERALIST TEMPER

IV. CONCEPTS OF BALANCE AND GRAMMAR	113
1. Literalist Temper
2. Barthélemy Aneau: Letter as Icon
3. Pierre Fabri: Word and Reference
4. Robert Estienne: Pedagogical Sanctions
5. Louis Meigret: Letter as Revelation
V. IMAGES OF THE TEXT	139
1. Schola Aquitanica : The Adjacency of Text
2. Geoffroy Tory: The 'True' Text
3. Jacques Gohorry: Rhetoric versus Letter
4. Denis Sauvage: Philosophical Translation as Constriction
5. Richard Le Blanc: Poetry versus Rhetoric
6. Claude Micard: A Typography of Letter
7. François de Fougères: Literalist and Truchement
8. Henri Estienne: Semantic Analysis
9. Guillaume Durant: An Impressionistic Strategy
10. Blaise de Vigenère: The Fixed Distance

PART THREE

THE VOCABULARY OF EXPRESSION

VI. CONSTRUCTIO	185
1. Translation and the Rhetorical Tradition
2. The Ciceronian Case for Translation
3. Etienne Dolet: Towards a Theory of Translative Construction
4. Joachim Périon: The Internalized Text
5. Pierre Ramus: Ciceronian Conversio
VII. PHRASIS	227
1. Phrasis : A 'Forme of Speakyng'
2. Tolet and Macault: Phrasis and Composition
3. Phrasis and Proprietas
4. The Preface as Interpretant Postscript

- 5. Phrasis and the Productivity of the Text
- 6. Jacques Peletier: Motion in Place
- 7. Abel Mathieu: Translative Writing as Deconstruction

VIII. THE TRANSLATIVE ENERGIES OF WORD.....	259
1. Rabelais and Mathieu: Semantic Rivalries
2. Intra muros / Intra textum
3. Antoine Macault: Energies of Voice and Letter
4. Sebillet, Du Bellay, Peletier: Poetic Strategies of Identity
5. Abel Mathieu: Intensifications of Culture, Language, and Text
CONCLUSION.....	323
BIBLIOGRAPHY	337
INDEX OF LITERARY THEORY	349
GENERAL INDEX.....	353