

Contents

J. Camilo Conde-Silvestre and Javier Calle-Martín
Introduction	7
Part 1: Languages in contact and variation in Middle English, multilingualism and multidialectism
Herbert Schendl
Language contact and code-switching in multilingual late medieval England	15
Laura Wright
On medieval wills and the rise of written monolingual English	35
Melanie Borchers
Que ma langue lor est salvaige. The status of French in medieval England: An attitude study	55
Rafał Molencki
The competition between purveyen and providen in Late Middle English	67
Raymond Hickey
Middle English voiced fricatives and the argument from borrowing	83
Theo Vennemann
Radical word order change by substratal causation: English versus German	97
Hanna Rutkowska
Late medieval dialectal and obsolescent spellings in the sixteenth-century editions of the Kalender of Shepherdes	129
Laura Esteban-Segura
Two Middle English texts in the light of the Málaga POS Tagger of Middle English	149
Part 2: Middle English morphology and syntax
Ryuichi Hotta
s-Pluralisation in Early Middle English and word frequency	163
Gyöngyi Werthmüller
Final -e in Gower's and Chaucer's monosyllabic premodifying adjectives. A grammatical/metrical analysis	179