

Table of Contents

Acknowledgments	• v
Author's Note	• ix
Introduction by Robert J. Stoller, M.D.	• 3
Author's Introduction	• 39

PART I: IDENTIFICATION

SECTION 1: Uses of Concepts

1 / Some Meanings	• 47
2 / Solitary Words Embody Ample Truths	• 54
3 / Facilities Through Difficult Language	• 61
4 / From the Outer to the Inner	• 76

SECTION 2: Ways of Reducing Distance: A Rough Scheme

5 / The Mingling of Selves	• 81
6 / The Resembling of Selves	• 86

SECTION 3: Summary

7 / A Tall Word Without Big Sentences	• 95
Notes to Part One	• 99

PART II: IDENTITY ARRIVES

SECTION 1: Uses of Concepts

8 / What Identity May Mean	• 109
9 / What Defining May Mean	• 117
10 / A Rich Word Is Attractive	• 119
11 / What Concepts May Do for Assertions	• 123
12 / The Product of Identity Theory	• 140

SECTION 2: The Senses of Self

13 / A Rough Scheme	• 143
14 / Identity Revisited	• 149
Notes to Part Two	• 151

PART III: THE NEW EGO

SECTION 1: The Mind's Commerce With Itself

- 15 / Considering the Analyzing Mind Rather than the Analyzed Events • 161
- 16 / It's the Context as Much as the Content • 164
- 17 / No Major Statement Lacks a Theoretical Basis • 167
- 18 / Fruits of Focusing on the Mind's Activity • 170
- 19 / Truth Has Become Awkward • 175
- 20 / We Must Distinguish • 178

SECTION 2: What Clinical Evidence Could Refute This Claim?

- 21 / Taking a Position on a Statement While Leaving Obscure the Evidence for Doing So • 181
- 22 / Decisions on Constructs • 185
- 23 / Treating Constructs as if They Were Words with Referents that Are Observable • 192
- 24 / Deriving Constructs from Realities • 194

SECTION 3: Discovering Relationships or Elucidating Words?

- 25 / Defining • 199
- 26 / Insights Depend on Definitions • 206
- 27 / Grounds for Choosing Definitions • 209
- 28 / Variants of Tautology • 216
- 29 / Combating the Awareness of Tautology • 219
- 30 / Hidden Repetitions • 228

SECTION 4: What Is New Here Beyond the Words?

- 31 / Fighting the Awareness of Just Restating • 233
- 32 / Emancipation From Classical Prejudice • 242
- 33 / The Fact of Interdependence • 244
- 34 / The Fact of Causation • 246

SECTION 5: What Have We Learned About the Ego Recently?

- 35 / How Do We Know This Is Ego? • 249
- 36 / The Ego Is Independent • 251
- 37 / The Ego Is Rich • 256
- 38 / The Ego Is Powerful • 259
- 39 / The Ego Is Also Harmonious • 261
- 40 / The Ego Procures Pleasure • 262
- 41 / The Ego Is Distant From Drive • 263
- 42 / A First Balance Sheet • 267

- Notes to Part Three • 268
- Précis of Paragraphs • 283
- Bibliography • 297