

Contents

Preface	ix
Introduction: Earth Wisdom, Western Values, and the 1960s (The Three Paradigms of Cultural Transformation Theory)	1
I. The Three Periods of the New-Paradigm Message	9
1. Seminal Visions of a Balanced Self: The Theories of Emerson, Nietzsche, and Bachofen	13
2. Eranos, the East, and the Mother Goddess Archetype: The Fusion of Psychology and Mythology in the Formulation of New-Paradigm Theory.....	19
3. Esalen and the 1960s Revolution: The Articulation of the New Values in the Contemporary Age.....	29
II. Modern Individual Voices	37
4. The Antipatriarchal Nature of Friedrich Nietzsche's Masculine Übermensch	43
5. Erich Neumann's Theory of the Evolving Psyche: From the Masculine Ego to the Archetypal Feminine ...	51
6. Alan Watts's Word on Myths of Polarity: Power to Women, Nature, and the Left Hand of God	57
7. Theodore Roszak's Countercultural Challenge: Paradigm Found or Technocracy Unbound?.....	63
8. Fritjof Capra's Call for a Coup d'Tao	71
9. Sam Keen's Erotic Ideal: From Androgyne to Lover....	81
10. Riane Eisler's Archaeological Interpretation: A Gylanic Mandate.....	91

III. The Revitalization of the Dionysus/Shiva/Yin Impulse: Conclusions Concerning the 1960s Zeitgeist.....	97
11. The Meeting of East, West, and the Sixties Eros: Dharma Bums and Zen and the Art of Motorcycle Maintenance	103
12. Rock-and-Roll's Twist and Shout for Dionysus	117
Conclusion: The Dynamics of Balance as a New-Paradigm Solution to the West's Present Spiritual Crisis	135
Notes	145
Bibliography	155