

CONTENTS

Series Introduction	vii
Volume Introduction	xiii
Ego Psychology and the Study of Mythology Jacob A. Arlow	1
Mythology, Folklore, and Psychoanalysis L. Bryce Boyer	25
The Symbol without Meaning Joseph Campbell	33
The Rolling Head: Towards a Revitalized Psychoanalytic Perspective on Myth Michael P. Carroll	99
The Psychology of Mythology Clarence O. Cheney	128
Jung and His Critics Carlos C. Drake	141
Earth-Diver: Creation of the Mythopoeic Male Alan Dundes	154
The Material and Sources of Dreams: Typical Dreams Sigmund Freud	174
Sibling Rivalry, the Oedipus Complex, and Myth Melville and Frances Herskovits	181
Jung on Myth and the Mythic Wilson M. Hudson	197
The Psychology of the Child Archetype C.G. Jung	215
Folklore and Psychology Weston La Barre	246
The Oedipus Myth in History and Psychiatry: A New Interpretation A.J. Levin	255

Complex and Myth in Mother-Right Bronislaw Malinowski	272
Introduction to The Origins and History of Consciousness Erich Neumann	295
Investigation of Myths and Legends Otto Rank and Hanns Sachs	305
The Garden of Eden Géza Róheim	345
Acknowledgments	395