

CONTENTS

	Preface	v
	Abbreviations and conventions	viii
1	General works on English literature
	Bibliographies and reading lists	1
	Literary histories	2
	Anthologies	7
	Miscellaneous works of reference	8
2	The approach to medieval literature
	When does English literature begin?	11
	The mode of communication and its literary consequences	15
	The manner of presentation: oral delivery	19
	Subject matter: the Middle English mind	21
3	A Middle English reading list
	Bibliographies, literary histories and anthologies	26
	Special studies and aids	28
	Lyrics, romances, drama, ballads	30
	Single works and authors	33
4	The approach to Renaissance literature
	Rebirth or inflation?	41
	Dramatic speech	47
	The Ego and Fortune	51

5	A Renaissance reading list, 1500-1650
	Bibliographies, literary histories, criticism, anthologies and special studies	54
	The principal writers	68
6	The approach to Augustan literature
	A common culture	101
	First aid for the modern reader	104
	The return of love	107
7	An Augustan reading list, 1650-1800
	Bibliographies, literary histories and anthologies	111
	Special subjects	114
	The principal writers	116
8	The approach to Romanticism
	The subjective individual	138
	'Diversitarianism'	143
	The reading public	145
	The retreat from Romanticism	148
9	A reading list, 1800-1970
	Bibliographies	153
	Literary histories, surveys and criticism	156
	Anthologies	159
	The principal writers	161
10	Modern literary criticism
	Bibliographies and histories of criticism	222
	Anthologies and symposia	223
	Critical journals	224
	General critical theory	225
	Criticism of poetry	227
	Criticism of drama	228
	Criticism of prose fiction	229
	Style and stylistics	231
	Prosody	231

11	Literary scholarship: an introduction to research in English literature
	Literary research: primers and style sheets	233
	Identifying and locating the texts	235
	Assembling the secondary material	243
	The techniques of literary research	257
12	American literature: by Harrison T. Meserole
	Bibliographies and other works	268
	Histories and anthologies	272
	Literary criticism	273
	Journals	279
	The principal writers (to those born 1900)	281
	Index	327