

Contents

Section I: Literature and Culture in 18th-Century England

ULRICH BROICH (München)
Introduction	3
ULRICH SUERBAUM (Bochum)
Eighteenth-Century Culture: Questions of Textuality	7
JOHN BARRELL (York)
Popular Political Culture in the Mid 1790s	15
IAN A. BELL (Swansea)
Hogarth's 'Industry and Idleness': Representing the Criminal	29
ELFI BETTINGER (Berlin)
A Woman Under the Influence: Women, Crime, and Punishment in 18th-Century England	31
ECKHART HELLMUTH (München)
To Make Sense of the Senseless. The Representation of Crime and Punishment in 18th-Century England	45
HERMANN WELLENREUTHER (Göttingen)
Pamphlets in the Seven Years' War: More Change Than Continuity ?	59
WERNER WOLF (Graz)
"The Wilderness Pleases" – But Why Not in the Novel? Literary and Cultural Aspects of the Fascination with Savage Landscapes and Its Belated Appearance in British Pre-Romantic Fiction	73
WALTER GÖBEL (Stuttgart)
Conflicting Definitions of the Culture of Sensibility	93
GERD STRATMANN (Bochum)
City Vice: New Urban Myths in 18th-Century England	105

Section II: Functional Grammar

ERICH STEINER (Saarbrücken) GÜNTER WEISE (Greifswald) Introduction	119
UWE CARLS (Berlin) The Function of Role Types in Unmarked Theme-Rheme Structures	121
PETER ERDMANN (Berlin) Supplementive Adjective Clauses in English	133
J. LACHLAN MACKENZIE (Amsterdam) Functional Grammar and the Analysis of English	135
ANNE-MARIE SIMON-VANDENBERGEN (Gent) A Functional Approach to Modality	149
ERICH STEINER (Saarbrücken) Systemic Functional Linguistics – A Chomsky-Theory or a Mead-Theory?	169
EIJA VENTOLA (Halle-Wittenberg/Helsinki) Theme in Translation: Some Considerations	193
GÜNTER WEISE (Greifswald) Functional-Semantic Fields	211

Section III: Society, Genre, and Language in Medieval England

HANS-JÜRGEN DILLER (Bochum)
Introduction	227
MATTI RISSANEN (Helsinki)
Genres, Texts, and Corpora in the Study of Medieval English	229
WERNER HÜLLEN (Essen)
William Caxton's Dialogues in French and English as a Source of Information About Social Reality	243
ANDREAS FISCHER (Zürich)
Dream Theory and Dream Lexis in the Middle Ages	245
MANFRED MARKUS (Innsbruck)
Chaucer's Prose in the Canterbury Tales as Parody	259
DIETER KASTOVSKY (Wien)
Morphological Reclassification: The Morphological and Morphophonemic Restructuring of the Weak Verbs in Old and Middle English	273
WILHELM G. BUSSE (Düsseldorf)
Bishop's Courts as Cultural Centres: The Case of the Harley Lyrics	285
SABINE VOLK-BIRKE (Bamberg)
The Wycliffite Sermons: A Critical Commentary on Late 14th-Century England	297
URSULA SCHAEFER (Berlin)
The Late Middle English Paston Letters : A Grammatical Case in Point for Reconsidering Philological Methodologies	313