

Contents

Introduction

PART ONE / The "Aspects" Model

1. Some Lexical Structures and Their Empirical Validity 3
Thomas G. Bever and Peter S. Rosenbaum
2. A Principle Governing Deletion in English Sentential
Complementation 20
Peter S. Rosenbaum
3. Conditions on English Comparative Clause Pairings 30
Austin Hale
4. On So-called Pronouns in English 56
Paul M. Postal
5. Some Remarks on the Action Nominalization in English 83
Bruce Fraser
6. The Accessibility of Deep Structures 99
D. Terence Langendoen

PART TWO / The Model Extended

7. The Two Verbs Begin 107
David M. Perlmutter
8. The Grammar of Hitting and Breaking 120
Charles J. Fillmore
9. On Very Deep Grammatical Structure 134
R. B. Lees

PART THREE / Revising the Model

10.	Pronominalization, Negation, and the Analysis of Adverbs	145
	George Lakoff
11.	Where Do Noun Phrases Come From?	166
	James D. McCawley
12.	Remarks on Nominalization	184
	Noam Chomsky
13.	On Declarative Sentences	222
	John Robert Ross
	Bibliography	273