

Contents

Preface	ix
Introduction	1
1. An Approach to New Testament Ethics and Narrative	3
Part One: The Plot of Mark, Apocalyptic, and Temporality	25
2. Apocalyptic and the Markan Narrative	27
3. Beginning, Middle, and End in Mark	40
4. Theological Reflection on Mark's Gospel	60
Part Two: Time and Ethics: Mark 10 in Its Context	67
5. Introduction to Mark's Ethic	69
6. The Kingdom, Faith, and Conduct: Mark's Non-Autonomous Ethic	81
7. Marriage and Divorce: Mark 10:1-12	101
8. Becoming Like a Child: Mark 10:13-16	128
9. Selling Property and Giving to the Poor: Mark 10:17-22	134
10. Salvation and the Christian Community: Mark 10:23-31	139
11. The Suffering Son of Man and the Ethics of Servanthood: Mark 10:32-52	156
Conclusion	169
12. The Messianic Secret, Faith, and Ethics	171

Appendices	197
I. Structuralism and Phenomenological Hermeneutics	199
II. The Problem of the Truth Value of Plotted Time	209
Select Bibliography	226
Indexes	229
Index of Scripture References	231
Index of Names	237
Index of Subjects	241