

Contents

Preface.....	ix
Historical Studies: Publishing History.....	x
Contributors.....	xi
A polemical introduction: literature, literary theory and the historian .....	1
Tom Dunne
The Irish hagiographer: resources, aims, results.....	10
Charles Doherty
Legend as critic.....	23
Donnchach Ó Corráin
Winner and Waster and the mid-fourteenth century economy .....	39
John Scattergood
Bardic poetry as a historical source.....	58
Katharine Simms
Edmund Spenser on Justice and Mercy.....	76
Brendan Bradshaw
Irish national character 1790-1900 .....	90
Seamus Deane
Sanditon : a Regency novel? .....	114
Oliver MacDonagh

Fiction as 'the best history of nations': Lady Morgan's Irish novels .....	133
Tom Dunne
Jewish emancipation in nineteenth-century Germany and the stereotyping of the Jew in Gustav Freytag's Soll und Haben (1855) .....	160
Eda Sagarra
Popular religion and irreligion in Victorian fiction.....	177
David Hempton
Mark Twain: historian of a lost world .....	197
Owen Dudley Edwards
Fictional images of Irish-America .....	227
Lawrence J. McCaffrey	