

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	xiii
Introduction	1

Part I. History and Background

CHAPTER 1. The Birth of the Rite	6
---	---

Earliest records. Synonymity of religion and magic. Categorization of various types of Rites. The five Ritual Codes. Psychological classifications. Body language and mime.

CHAPTER 2. Yesterday and Today	15
---------------------------------------	----

The Recollective Bado Rite of the Dogons based on Sirius, re-echoed in the tribal myths of the Bambara and Bozo. Origins of Chaldean Rites and beliefs. The Oannes legend. The Horned god. The psychology of energy exchanges. An ancient Seasonal Rite.

CHAPTER 3. Enter the Intermediary	25
--	----

Gnostic evolutionary classifications. How the need for an intermediary arose. Shamanism and states of ecstasy. The shamanic role in the Sacrificial Rite. The role of the priest or hierophant in tribal and civic affairs. Social advantages of ancient rites as seen by modern psychiatrists.

CHAPTER 4. Magical and Secular Rites in History 32

The social usage of ancient Egyptian Rites. Two forms of sacred rites — religious and sensuous. The Eleusinia, or state rites of ancient Greece. Drama and the Rite. The psychological view of 'faith'. Private language of the subconscious — an anecdote. Jung on the power of the Rite to influence God.

CHAPTER 5. Psychism and the Rite 45

The term 'psychism' defined occultly, psychologically and scientifically. Professor Stephen E Braude on PK and allied phenomena. Jung on mediumship and the hysterical personality-type. Brain patterns involved in psi manifestations. Channelling. The dangers of experimentation. Trance mediumship and the Rite. The role of creative imagery. Archetypes in ritual.

CHAPTER 6. Disciplines of the Rite 56

Freud on the libido. Jung on Tantra. Sexual expression as related to soul-age. The sublimation principle in religious orders. The redemption factor. Imbalances effected by drugs, hypnosis, deprivation. The power of repetition in unconscious programming. Yoga — its nature and discipline.

CHAPTER 7. To Play or Not to Play? 65

How ritual role-playing works. Archetypal identities. Hallucinations and visions. Two views — humanistic psychology and the Jungian analyst. The assumption of the archetypal role. Who or what are 'the gods'? The occult ego traps and danger zones of pride and power. Morphic resonance as applied to ritual role-playing.

CHAPTER 8. Ritual Heritage 74

Rites of birth, puberty, and death or departure. Remnants of old Rites that are still with us. The influence of the Rite on architecture and the arts. Sacred geometry. The Roman Catholic Mass as a Sacrificial Rite — its psychological effects observed. The psychology of sacrifice. Talismanic Rites.

CHAPTER 9. Rites of Death and Departure 85

The Book of the Dead. Ancient Egyptian Burial Rites. The Tibetan Bardo Thödol. The Requiem Mass. A Seax Wicca Rite, 'Crossing the Bridge' (at Death) and a pagan 'Rite for the Dead' reproduced in full. An old Aztec Funerary Rite. Further Rites of Departure. The psychology of the Death Syndrome.

Part II. Psychological Breakdown

CHAPTER 10. Psychological and Somatic Side-Effects 96

The effect of certain rites on the autonomic nervous system, the brain, the mental system and the endocrine system. The relationship between the endocrine system and the chakras. The Kundalini concept. Excitatory Rites that over-energize. Psychological and somatic intolerances to psychic frequencies or resonances. The 'heat' effect. Psychedelic side-effects in ritual.

CHAPTER 11. A Qabalistic Pathworking 110

The Qabalah defined. The Tree of Life, the Double Helix and the DNA molecule. Pathworking as a legitimate occult practice. Full psychological analysis of a Qabalistic Pathworking. Jung's Qabalistic experience. Gematria.

CHAPTER 12. An Ancient Egyptian Rite 124

The Book of the Dead considered. True origins of the Egyptian magical system and the philosophy behind the old Egyptian beliefs. A metaphysical consideration of the Law of Polarity and the nature of the Twinning Rite. The inherent dangers in Egyptiana and High Magic generally.

CHAPTER 13. A Triple Goddess Rite and an Old Celtic Healing Rite 134

1. Moon worship and the Triple Goddess concept. The three aspects as related to the human psychological economy.
2. An old Celtic healing ceremony — a hindbrain or instinctive awareness Rite. The animistic aspects. Elemental qualities defined.

CHAPTER 14. Two Protection Rites 138

- × 1. A Jesuit ritual. The Roman Catholic attitude towards evil and a personalised devil. The delusory nature of many so-termed 'occult attacks'.
2. The Hammer Rite in the Norse/Teutonic tradition. The animus emphasis in Severity Code Rites. The nature of Runic magic and the closeness of that system to the earth-plane.

CHAPTER 15. An Enochian Angelic Rite 142

The various angelic classifications and their roles in the celestial hierarchy. The Heptarchia Mystica of John Dee. An Enochian Invocatory Rite analysed. Left hemisphere requirements of memorization.

CHAPTER 16. Ritual World Tour 148

A Shinto Harvest Festival. Aztec ceremonial bathing of the newborn. Personal Worship — Pūja (Tantra). Sitting and the Kōan. Aboriginal Rain Making and the Corroboree. The Great Huna Ha Prayer Rite. Shamanic descent to the bottom of the ocean.

CHAPTER 17. Initiation Rites 162

Initiation — what it is and what it is not. Psychological reaction to initiation failure. Initiation Rites from the past. Ritual renaming of the novice. Shamanic Initiatory Rites. The 'berserk' factor. The heat factor. The death and resurrection syndrome or transformation principle — the alchemical inferences. The significance of trees in ancient initiation. Apuleius and the Isian initiatory scene. A Buddhist initiation. Plato and Plutarch on initiation.

CHAPTER 18. Women's Rites 178

The role of women in ritual. The views of Freud and Jung. Athene, Greek goddess of wisdom — her significance. Female Puberty Rites. Secret women's fraternities. Female Initiation Rituals from various parts of the world. Psychiatrist Bani Shorter on the present-day need for ritual negotiation of different thresholds. Isian Rites.

Part III. Rituals of the Nuclear Age

CHAPTER 19. The Age of the Cult 192

The astrological 'Ages'. The soul age. Inner and outer time. Aquarianism — a double-edged sword. Changes in ritual expression from Piscean to Aquarian. The resurgence of ancient religions and their associated rites. The new eco-religion. The rise of interest in occult and metaphysical studies. The cult of the guru and its dependencies. The Jungian cult. The triple programming of modern life.

CHAPTER 20. Interplanetary and Interstellar Rites 200

The religion of alternatives. Cosmic roots. Looking forward and outward for inspiration. The role of astrology in ritual.

Channelled connections from other worlds. The nature of the Sirius ray. The current abuse of natural laws. Space, time, and the human mind.

CHAPTER 21. The Role of Ritual in Everyday Life 206

Present-day Social Rites. The rituals of daily living. The psychology behind superstition. The power of the media in collective programming and social conditioning. Today's gods — materialism and science. Modern aspects of Dualism.

CHAPTER 22. Secret Rites 210

Reasons for secrecy. Ancient Secret Rites of science and knowledge. Secrecy through fear of persecution — magical and religious underground movements. The secret order as a breeding ground for spiritual and intellectual snobbery. The psychology behind the magical 'union' or select clique.

CHAPTER 23. New Age Initiation 215

Crossing the initiatory threshold in today's world. Initiation in the trials of everyday existence. The Initiation Rites of organizations such as the Order of the Golden Dawn. The Three Degrees of Wiccan initiation. Solitary initiation. Who is or is not suited to the magical Path. The eight psychological types.

CHAPTER 24. Modern Healing Rites 223

Three categories. Various rituals of healing. The Butterfly syndrome. The dangers in untrained or unprofessional diagnoses. Healing in Wiccan covens. Christian healing practices — the nature and identity of the Holy Spirit and other healing entities encountered in the Spiritualist movement. Solitary Healing Rites.

CHAPTER 25. Collective Power Rites 228

The missionary mode: social, political, religious or magical indoctrination. The psychology behind the formation of new groups or collectives. Personal power complexes. Cosmic racism. The Gaia hypothesis.

CHAPTER 26. Ethics and Self-Defence 232

Why the need for protection and from what? The nature of evil — the misplaced energy theory. Banishment and Cleansing Rites. Exorcism. The Law of Equalities defined. Paranormal phenomena and PK. Unfounded occult attacks. The power of Egyptian talismanic magic — an anecdote.

CHAPTER 27. Conclusions 239

The macrocosm/microcosm concept. The altars and sacrificial offerings of materialism and science. Employment of the Rite as part of the universal order of things. The Rite as observed in all natural cycles — death and rebirth, growth, display, maturation, withdrawal.

APPENDICES

I. A Qabalistic Pathworking	244
II. An Ancient Egyptian Polarity Rite Dedicated to Bast	250
III. A Triple Goddess Rite	259
IV. An Old Celtic Healing Rite	265
V. An Old Roman Catholic Protection Rite	270
VI. The Hammer Rite in the Norse/Teutonic Tradition	273
VII. An Enochian Angelic Invocatory Rite	278

Glossary of Terms	288
-------------------	-----

Bibliography	300
--------------	-----