

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	vii
Preamble	I
The Legibility of Human Rights
1. Novel Subjects and Enabling Fictions: The Formal Articulation of International Human Rights Law	45
2. Becoming Plots: Human Rights, the Bildungsroman , and the Novelization of Citizenship	86
3. Normalizing Narrative Forms of Human Rights: The (Dys)Function of the Public Sphere	140
4. Compulsory Development: Narrative Self- Sponsorship and the Right to Self-Determination	205
5. Clefs à Roman : Reading, Writing, and International Humanitarianism	270
Codicil	317
Intimations of a Human Rights International: “The Rights of Man; or What Are We [Reading] For?”
Notes	329
Bibliography	389
Index	419