

CONTENTS

Illustrations	vii
Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction: Troubled Vision Emma Campbell and Robert Mills	1
Part One Troubled Desires	15
1. Picturing Same-Sex Desire: The Falconer and His Lover in Images by Petrus Christus and the Housebook Master Diane Wolfthal	17
2. Visible and Invisible Bodies and Subjects in Peter Damian William Burgwinkle	47
3. Seeing Women Troubadours without the “-itz” and “-isms” Francesca Nicholson	63
Part Two Troubled Looks	77
4. The Look of Love: The Gender of the Gaze in Troubadour Lyric Simon Gaunt	79
5. Sacrificial Spectacle and Interpassive Vision in the Anglo-Norman Life of Saint Faith Emma Campbell	97
6. Seeing Face to Face: Troubled Looks in the Katherine Group Robert Mills	117
Part Three Troubled Representations	137
7. Vision Beyond Measure: The Threshold of Iacopone’s Bedroom Cary Howie	139

8.	Sex and the Medieval City: Viewing the Body Politic from Exile in Early Italian Verse Catherine M. Keen	155
	Part Four Troubled Readings	173
9.	Reading Reading Women: Double-Mirroring the Dame in Der Ritter vom Turn Anne Simon	175
10.	Visualizing the Feminine in the Roman de Perceforest : The Episode of the “Conte de la Rose” Sylvia Huot	193
11.	Too Many Women: Reading Freud, Derrida, and Lancelot Miranda Griffin	207
	Response	221
12.	The Medieval Looks Back: A Response to Troubled Vision Sarah Salih	223
	Contributors	233
	Index	237