

Contents

Acknowledgments ix

Introduction i

PART I: Narrator, Dreamer, and Dream

Foreword to Part I ii

1. Langland: Prologue and Passus I 12

2. Spenser: Book I 21

Narrator and Narrative 21

Dreamer and Dream Poem 26

The Poet 40

3. The Cave of Mammon and the Visio 50

The Cave: "For stonde he neuere so styf . . ." 51

The Visio: "Like mightie pillours . . ." 65

PART II: Growth and Expansion

Foreword to Part II 79

4. Passūs XII to XIV: Imaginative, Conscience, and Hawkin 83

5. The Faerie Queene: Books III and IV 96

Book III.i–iv: The Venerian flower and the boar 98

Book IV: "But antique age yet in the infancie / Of time . . ." 113

PART III: A Personal Voice

Foreword to Part III 127

6. Passūs XV to XX: Long Will 129

7. Books V and VI: Justice and Courtesy 154

Prince Arthur: I, II, V, VI, canto viii 159

Melibee: "But all the night in siluer sleepe I spend . . ." 177

Past, Present, and Poet 184

8. Conclusion: Change or Dilation 198

Notes 205

Index 237