

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments ix

Introduction: Making Radio Strange 1
Jason Loviglio and Michele Hilmes

SECTION I The Digital Soundscape 7

1 Listening in the Digital Age 9
Kate Lacey

2 Public Radio in Crisis 24
Jason Loviglio

3 The New Materiality of Radio: Sound on Screens 43
Michele Hilmes

4 The Past and Future of Music Listening: Between Freeform DJs
and Recommendation Algorithms 62
Elena Razlogova

SECTION II Radio's New Sounds 77

5 Youth, New Media, and Radio: Mobile Phone and Local Radio
Convergence in Turkey 79
Ece Algan

viii Contents

- 6 Listening to Race and Migration on Contemporary U.S. Spanish-
Language Radio 91
Dolores Inés Casillas
- 7 Voices Made For Print: Crip Voices on the Radio 106
Bill Kirkpatrick
- 8 “Your Ears are a Portal to Another World”: The New Radio
Documentary Imagination and the Digital Domain 126
Virginia Madsen

SECTION III

Radio’s New Histories 145

- 9 El Octopus Acústico: Broadcasting and Empire in the Caribbean 147
Alejandra Bronfman
- 10 Portia Faces the World: Re-Writing and Re-Voicing American
Radio for an International Market 163
David Goodman and Susan Smulyan
- 11 Sounds from the Life of the Future: Making Sense of U.S. Radio Broadcasting in France, 1921–1939 180
Derek W. Vaillant
- 12 Tick Tock Goes the Musical Clock: Time Discipline and Early Morning Radio Programs 194
Alexander Russo

- Contributors* 209
- Index* 213