

Contents

	Preface	iii
1	Language at work and play Language functions. 'Mere' talk. Languages compared. Sound symbolism.	1
2	Speaker and speech: Which is in control? Language and attitude. A help to thought. Making contact. The value of vagueness.	15
3	Language, identity, and nation Different identities. National identity. Nation and language. Sharing a language. Sharing English.	27
4	Variation within English Some samples of English. The notion of 'institutionalisation'. Factors in language variation. Native and non-native.	41
5	The spread of English Linguistic 'reach'. The rise of English. Cultural factors. International communication. The future.	54
6	Our ever-changing language Twentieth-century changes. Standard of living. The impact of youth. The influence of America. New sensibilities. Tolerance with frankness.	66
7	English and other languages The influence of English. Influence and fashion. Franglais . Resistance. Language purity? Welcoming foreign influence. The international trend.	82
8	Learning the language we know The native language at school. Writing and the individual. The skills of reading. Respect for the addressee. Knowing about language. A glimpse at grammar. Words and grammar. Language and convention.	97

9	What is Standard English?	112
	Taking the standard for granted. What we mean by 'standard'. Standard and slang. British and American standards. Variation in sound.
10	The power and complexity of words	126
	Name and referent. Reality shaped by words. Lexicalisation. The dynamic nature of meaning. Vocabulary expansion. Mastering the vocabulary.
11	Words and dictionaries	146
	Data, selection, meanings. The OED (2nd edition, 1989). Webster's Third. General-purpose dictionaries. Learner's dictionaries. Special dictionaries.
12	How do we learn grammar?	173
	The power of analogy. The use of nonsense. Making sense. Grammar and standard grammar. Different language, different grammar.
13	Patterns and constructions	189
	Meanings and the verb phrase. Meanings and the noun phrase. The roles of sentence elements. Grammatical economy. Grammatical complexity. Focusing information. Focusing by suppression.
14	Style and purpose	206
	Specialised language. General language. Informal tropes. Taking care. Objectivity?
15	Where usage is a problem	224
	Shibboleths. Our duty to our addressee. Avoiding ambiguity. Think first!
16	Art in words	240
	Ordinary language. The art of informality. Conquest and submission. New versus old. A poet at work. Art in prose.
	For further study	258
	Index	259