

Contents

| | |
|--|------------|
| Foreword D. P. Pattanayak | vii |
| Acknowledgements | xi |
| 1 Many people, many tongues Viv Edwards and Safder Alladina | i |
| Part one: West Africa and the Caribbean | |
| 2 The West African speech communities Morgan Dalphinis | 33 |
| 3 The Afro-English creole speech community Morgan Dalphinis | 42 |
| 4 The Kwéyòl speech community Hubisi Nwenmely | 57 |
| Part two: South Asia | |
| 5 The Bengali speech community Jyoti Husain | 75 |
| 6 The Gujarati speech community Jagdish Dave | 88 |
| 7 The Hindi speech community Mahendra K. Verma | 103 |
| 8 The Panjabi speech community V. K. Mahandru | 115 |
| 9 The Urdu speech community Farhat Khan | 128 |
| 10 The Sri Lankan speech communities: The Sinhala speech community Lakshmi de Zoysa The Tamil speech community Gnani Perinpanayagam | 142 149 |
| Part three: East Asia | |
| 11 The Filipino speech community Amy Thompson | 163 |
| 12 The Japanese speech community Yoshiko Namie | 178 |
| 13 The Hong Kong Chinese speech community Lornita Yuen-Fan Wong | 189 |
| 14 The Singaporean and Malaysian speech communities Ronald Chan | 207 |

| | | |
|-----------------------------------|--|-----|
| 15 | The Vietnamese Chinese speech community Lornita Yuen-Fan Wong | 221 |
| Part four: The Middle East | | |
| 16 | The Farsi (Persian) speech community Shahla Taheri White | 231 |
| 17 | The Hebrew speech community Judy Keiner | 239 |
| | Notes on the contributors | 253 |
| | Community addresses | 260 |
| | Index | 264 |