

CONTENTS

Preface	ix
Note on Editions	xvii
1 The Will in English Romanticism	1
Introduction: Consciousness and Conduct	1
The Question of the Will	5
The Will in Romantic Poetry	29
2 The Extremes of Self and System	52
The Symbiosis of Self and System in the Neoclassical Regimen	57
Volatile Self and System in the Romantic Complex	76
Fruitful Failure and Incidental Cause: The Will in The Prelude	84
Blake's Jerusalem: A Self without Selfhood, a System against System	118
3 The Will to Art	145
Keats and the Aesthetics of Redemption	150
Excursus: The Will to Art in Romanticism	182
Logic, Vision, and Actuality: The State of Art in Blake	187
Wordsworth and the Stoical Resolution of Art	201
Conclusion	216
Notes	223
Bibliography	253
Index	271