

C O N T E N T S

Acknowledgments xi

Introduction, by John Patrick Lynch xv

PART I THEORETICAL ORIENTATIONS

- The Renaissance Imagination: Second World and Green World 3
The Ecology of the Mind: The Concept of Period Imagination—An Outline Sketch 41
Naive Consciousness and Culture Change: An Essay in Historical Structuralism 63

PART II SHAKESPEARE

- Theater, Drama, and the Second World: A Prologue to Shakespeare 111
Troilus and Cressida: The Observer as Basilisk 130
Miraculous Harp: A Reading of Shakespeare's Tempest 147

PART III RENAISSANCE HUMANISTS

- Pico and Neoplatonist Idealism: Philosophy as Escape 189
Utopian Folly: Erasmus and More on the Perils of Misanthropy 229

PART IV MARVELL AND MILTON

- Andrew Marvell: The Poem as Green World 251
Paradise Lost Evolving, Books I–VI: Toward a New View of the Poem
as the Speaker's Experience 324

PART V ART

- L. B. Alberti on Painting: Art and Actuality in Humanist Perspective 373
Leonardo da Vinci: The Influence of World View on Artistic Style 409
Conspicuous Exclusion in Vermeer: An Essay in Renaissance Pastoral 441
Some Vanity of His Art: Conspicuous Exclusion and Pastoral in Vermeer 462

Index 511