

CONTENTS

List of Illustrations	ix
Preface	xi
Short References and Abbreviations	xix
CHAPTER ONE Lyrics and the Manuscript System	1
The Occasional Character of Renaissance Lyric Verse	2
Manuscript Gatherings and Manuscript Books	10
Types of Manuscript Collections	17
Some Physical Features of Manuscript Collections	25
The Social Contexts of Manuscript Compilation	30
Women and the Manuscript System	48
Sixteenth-Century Manuscript Collections	61
Seventeenth-Century Manuscript Collections	68
CHAPTER TWO Sex, Politics, and the Manuscript System	75
Obscenity and the Manuscript System	76
Manuscript Poetry and the Political World	82
Political Scandals and Political Falls	94

CONTENTS

Crown against Parliament and Royalist against Puritan	112
Poems Popular in the Manuscript System	126
CHAPTER THREE Social Textuality in the Manuscript System	135
Textual Instability and Malleability	135
Corrupting Donne	147
Answer Poetry	159
Compiler Poetry	171
CHAPTER FOUR Print and the Lyric	209
Richard Tottel and the Appropriation of Poems by Print Culture	212
Sidney and the Legitimizing of Printed Lyric Verse	228
Jonson, Authorship, and Print	238
Donne, Herbert, and the Lyric Collection	247
Humphrey Moseley, Single-Author Editions, and the Anthologizing of Verse	259
Poetry Anthologies at Midcentury	265
Some Features of the Physical Book	281
CHAPTER FIVE Patronage, Poetry, and Print	291
Skelton, Tottel, and the Poetry of Early Courtly Amateurs	293
Gascoigne and Breton	302
Sidney, Literary Authorization, and Patronage	310
Jonson and the Problems of Patronage	317
Conclusion	325
General Index	335
Index of Manuscripts	346