

Contents

Series Editors' Foreword ix

Acknowledgments xiii

Introduction 3

Violence and Form 8

Power, Force, Political Violence 20

Confronting War, Imagining History 24

Chapters 35

1. Enchanted and Disenchanted Violence 39

The Waste Land 65

2. Dynamite Violence: From Melodrama to Menace 83

Imagining Revolutionaries and their Acts 88

Explosion and Melodrama: The Secret Agent 108

Dynamite and the Future 125

3. Cyclical Violence: The Irish Insurrection and the Limits of Enchantment 131

The Long Past: Keening 136

The Rising: Generative Violence 143

The Years of War: Reprisal 162

Past, Present, Future: Architectural Allegory 184

4. Patterns of Violence: Virginia Woolf in the 1930s	197
Theorizing Violence in the 1930s	202
The Spanish Civil War	210
Action and Pacifism	220
Virginia Woolf	228
Early Patterns: The Voyage Out	232
The 1920s: Jacob's Room , Mrs. Dalloway , To the Lighthouse	236
Overwhelming Force: The Years , Three Guineas , Between the Acts	253
Conclusion	287
 Notes	299
Works Cited	343
Index	363