

Contents

General Editors' Foreword	ix
Preface	xiii
Acknowledgments	xxi
Part 1: Background to the Question	1
1. Framing the Facts in Medieval Epistolary Theory	3
2. Persuasion and Reception	33
3. Pope vs. Emperor: The Issues of Contention	57
Part 2: Persuasion and Power at the Papal Chancery	75
4. Elevated Prose Style and Power at the Chancery of Innocent III	77
5. Harmony and Conflict at the Chancery of Honorius III	95
6. Limits of Persuasion at the Chancery of Gregory IX	115
Part 3: Persuasion and Resistance at the Imperial Chancery	135
7. Emergence of a New Paradigm of Persuasion	137
8. Persuasion and the Science of Nature at the Court of Frederick II	157
9. The Failure of Persuasion	189
Conclusion	211
Bibliography	215
Index	235