

The Divorce Process: A Handbook for Clinicians

Journal of Divorce
Volume 10, Numbers 1/2

CONTENTS

Introduction	xiii
BACKGROUND
The Developmental Course of Conflict in the Marital Dissolution Process	1
James J. Ponzetti, Jr. Rodney M. Cate
The Process of Marital Dissolution	2
Stages of Divorce	3
Salient Dimensions During Dissolution	5
Method	5
Results and Discussion	8
Conclusion	12
The Grief Resolution Process in Divorce: Phase II	17
John F. Crosby Sandra K. Lybarger Richard L. Mason
Review of Literature: 1980 to 1985	18
Overview of Phase I—Pilot Study	23
The Self-Report Questionnaire	25
Subject Characteristics	27
Failure-Guilt-Depression-Meaning	28
Results	30
Stage One: First Awareness of Serious Marital Problems	30
Stage Two: Separation or Filing	32
Stage Three: Final Decree	33

Discussion	34
Conclusions	37
Divorce: Three Different Experiences for Three Different Families	41
Carol Masheter
Utility of Kantor and Lehr's Family Types in Considering Divorce	42
Definitions	42
Divorce Trajectories	44
Implications for the Therapist	51
DYSFUNCTIONAL MARITAL PATTERNS
The Ambivalent Spouse Syndrome	57
Bruce William Jones
Literature Review	58
The Syndrome	59
Treatment	63
Discussion	65
A Comparison of Men Who Are Divorce Prone with Those Who Are Marriage Phobic	69
Robert M. Counts Kelly Reid
Case Studies	70
Analysis of the Two Groups	81
Conclusions	86
DEFINING THE RANGE OF DYSFUNCTIONAL PATTERNS IN CHILDREN
Children of Divorce: The Question of Clinically Significant Problems	87
Nancy J. Warren Eleanor R. Ilgen Mary E. Van Bourgondien Judy T. Konanc Robert S. Grew Ingrid A. Amara

Who Are the “Normal” Children of Divorce? On the Need to Specify Population	107
Marla B. Isaacs
George Leon
Ann Marie Donohue
Children and Divorce: The “Negative” Identification	121
Morton Chethik
Nancy Dolin
Douglas Davies
Rebecca Lohr
Susan Darrow
Identification Shifts Within the Child: The Varied Functions of Internalization	122
The Role of the Parent in the “Negative Identification” Process	131
Summary	137
 DEVELOPMENTAL FEATURES IN CHILDREN OF DIVORCE
“Where Is My Daddy’s House?” Preschool-Age Children of Divorce and Transitional Phenomena—A Study	139
Ruth Stirtzinger
Depression in Children from Single-Parent Families	153
Debra K. Huntley
Randy E. Phelps
Lynn R. Rehm
Adolescents’ Attitudes Toward Suicide: Does Knowledge That the Parents Are Divorced Make a Difference?	163
Jeffie A. Gibson
Lillian M. Range
Howard N. Anderson
Young Adult Children of Divorced Parents: Depression and the Perception of Loss	169
Rebecca L. Drill

FAMILY REORGANIZATION

- Recoupling: Development and Establishment of the Spousal Subsystem in Remarriage 189

Judith A. Kvanli

Glen Jennings

- Defining Post-Divorce Remarriage Families: A Typology
Based on the Subjective Perceptions of Children 205

Penny Gross

- Rationale 206
Method 208
Development of a Framework 209
Contributions and Conclusions 215

GROUP TREATMENT MODELS FOR DIVORCING POPULATIONS

- The Long-Term Effects of Divorce: Mothers and Children in Concurrent Support Groups 219

Ana Margarita Cebollero

Karen Cruise

Gary Stollak

- The Single Parent Project 221
Discussion 226

- Group Work with Emotionally Attached or Ambivalent
Spouses in Process of Separating, Separated, or Recently Divorced 229

Roxanne Power

- Who Is Emotionally Attached or Ambivalent? 230
Group Composition 233
Focus of Group Work 233
Task of Group Work 236
Therapist's Role 236
Summary 239

An Evaluation of the “Recovery of Hope” Program	241
Virginia Moxley
Kenneth Eggeman
Walter R. Schumm
Program Goals and Content	243
Evaluation Design	244
Respondent Characteristics	245
Measurement	246
Analysis	247
Results	248
Discussion	254