

Contents

Preface	ix
Acknowledgements	xi
Notes on the Contributors	xii
1 Laughter, Imagination and the Cruelty of Life: a View of Oliver Twist John Watson	1
2 Bleak House: Another Look at Jo Kathleen Tillotson	16
3 Form and Fable in Hard Times John Holloway	29
4 The Choir-master and the Single Buffer: an Essay on The Mystery of Edwin Drood W. W. Robson	43
5 'I must keep in good health, and not die': the Conception of the Self in an Unorthodox Victorian Novel Miriam Allott	63
6 Love and the Aspiring Mind in Villette Jocelyn Harris	82
7 The Historic Imagination in George Eliot Ian Milner	97

8	Physicians in Victorian Fiction Philip Collins	111
9	Trollope's Love-stories: From Framley Parsonage to The Belton Estate Juliet McMaster	131
10	Under the Greenwood Tree and the Victorian Pastoral Lawrence Jones	149
11	The Complex Simplicity of The Ambassadors D. W. Harding	168
12	'When 'Omer smote 'is bloomin' lyre' Sydney Musgrove	185
13	Ernest Alan Horsman: a Checklist of Publications and Reviews, 1948–88	205
	Index	208