

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction	xiii
Part I: Assessment of and Treatment Planning and Individual Psychotherapy for Sexually Abused Adolescent Males
JOHN C. GONSIOREK
1. Historical and Background Perspectives on Adolescent and Male Sexual Abuse	3
The History of Adolescence as a Concept	5
The Present Social Context	10
Diversity, Erotophobia, and Homophobia	13
Sexual Identity Development	15
Summary	20
2. A Critique of Current Models in Sexual Abuse	21
Feminist Models	22
Psychoanalytic Models	26
Profamily Models	27
Propedophile Models	29
Comparison of the Models	30
Theory-Driven Versus Client-Driven Models of Treatment	34
Summary	36
3. Male Victims of Sexual Abuse	37
Definitions of Abuse	37

Prevalence	39
Barriers to Identification of Male Victims	45
Female Perpetrators of Sexual Abuse	49
The Effects of Sexual Abuse on Males	52
Summary	55
4. Diagnosis and Treatment of Young Adult and Adolescent Male Victims: An Individual Psychotherapy Model	56
Assessment	57
Formulation of a Treatment Plan	72
An Individual Therapy Model	77
The Role of Other Therapy Modalities	98
Theoretical Implications of This Model	100
Summary	109

Part II: Family Systems Therapy for Adolescent Male Sex Offenders

WALTER H. BERA

5. Clinical Review of Adolescent Male Sex Offenders	113
Historical Overview of the Adolescent Sex Offender	118
A Model of the Etiology and Maintenance of Adolescent Sex Offenders	124
Typologies of Adolescent Sex Offenders	131
Summary	144
6. Treatment Approaches for Adolescent Male Sex Offenders	145
Overview of Treatment Methods and Techniques for Juvenile Sex Offenders	145
Critique of Current Methods and Rationale for a Family-Based Assessment and Treatment Approach	152
Need for Assessment and Clinical Program Strategies and Tools	154
PHASE: A Family-Based Outpatient Treatment Model	156
A Family Systems Approach: Perspectives and Early Structuring	163
Strategies to Increase Family Involvement	164
A Systemic Approach to Adolescent Sexual Abuse	166
Stages of Family Therapy for Adolescent Sex Offenders	168
Future Directions	182

7. Victim-Sensitive Offender Therapy:
A Systemic/Attributional Perspective	186
Context and Critique of Current Approaches	188
Misattribution Issues for Offenders and Victims	191
Treatment Description	196
Strengths of the VSOT Model and Victim-Offender
Communication Models in General	197
The VSOT Process	198
Treatment Results	213
Summary and Implications	218
Part III: A Model for Working
With Adolescent Male Prostitutes
DON LeTOURNEAU
8. Adolescent Male Prostitution:
A Social Work/Youth Work Perspective	225
The Historical Literature	227
The Research Literature	231
What Is Missing From the Research Literature	246
The Conventional View	252
A Contextual View	257
9. Prevention of and Intervention
With Male Prostitution	261
The Social Institutional Level	263
The Population/Group Level	270
The Clinical Level	274
Detached Youth Work: A Model	282
The Theory of Adolescence Underlying
Detached Youth Work	292
Key Elements of Successful Detached
Youth Work Programs	297
The Work of Detached Youth Work	302
Synopsis of the Detached Youth Work Model	307
Summary	307
10. Epilogue	314
JOHN C. GONSIOREK
References	319
Index	335
About the Authors	341