

Contents

Acknowledgments ix

Introduction 1

1. *The Bias against Spectacle in Tragedy:
The History of an Idea* 7
2. The Romantics' Critique of Appeals to the Senses in the Arts 33
3. *Coleridge's Emphasis on the Importance of
"Abstraction" in Education, Reading Drama, and Self-Realization* 43
4. *Hazlitt's Appeal to Readers in
His Drama Criticism* 95
5. Lamb and Reader-Response Criticism 115
6. *The Metamorphoses of Nineteenth-Century
Views of Spectacle* 128

Conclusion 165

Notes 169

Selected Bibliography 209

Index 217