

Contents

Acknowledgments	vi
Preface	vii
1 The Painter's Bible and the British Workman: Robert Tressell's Literary Activism Peter Miles	1
2 Miners and the Novel: From Bourgeois to Proletarian Fiction Graham Holderness	19
3 A Feminist Reading of Lewis Grassic Gibbon's A Scots Quair Deirdre Burton	35
4 Love on the Dole and the Aesthetic of Contradiction Roger Webster	49
5 'History' and 'Myth' in D.H. Lawrence's Chatterley Novels Graham Martin	63
6 'A Revolutionary Materialist with a Leg Free': The Autobiographical Novels of Jack Common Michael Pickering and Kevin Robins	77
7 The Roots of Sillitoe's Fiction David Craig	95
8 The Irish Working Class in Fiction Ruth Sherry	111
9 Unfinished Business: Realism and Working-Class Writing Tony Davies	125
10 The Making of a Working-Class Writer: An Interview with Sid Chaplin Michael Pickering and Kevin Robins	139
Notes on Contributors	151
Index	153