

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction: Wonder Woman, or the Female Tragic Hero Naomi Conn Liebler	1
Euripides at Gray's Inn: Gascoigne and Kinwelmersh's Jocasta Robert S. Miola	33
Visible Hecubas Judith Weil	51
"Not Know Me Yet?": Looking at Cleopatra in Three Renaissance Tragedies Mimi Still Dixon	71
The Heroic Tragedy of Cleopatra, the "Prostitute Queen" Kay Stanton	93
Female Heroism in Heywood's Tragic Farce of Adultery: A Woman Killed with Kindness Theresia de Vroom	119
"As If a Man Should Spit against the Wind" Martin Orkin	141
Queen of Apricots: The Duchess of Malfi, Hero of Desire Linda Woodbridge	161
The "Morris Witch" in The Witch of Edmonton Laura Denker and Laurie Maguire	185
Sex and the Female Tragic Hero Jeanne Addison Roberts	199
Contributors	217
Works Cited	219
Index	235