

Contents

List of Illustrations		xi
Introduction		1
PART I	Greater Than a Mother	7
Chapter One	Mother Country: The Feminine Idiosyncrasy	9
Chapter Two	Mother Culture and Mother Church	26
Chapter Three	Cultural Nationalism: Anglo-Irish and Gaelic Ireland	43
Chapter Four	Urban Women and Catholic Ireland: James Joyce	63
Chapter Five	Shrill Voices: Yeats's Response to the Easter Rising	75
Chapter Six	Unaccommodated Women: Crazy Jane and Other Women in The Winding Stair and Other Poems	93
PART II	A Voice in Directing the Affairs of Ireland	109
Chapter Seven	'Groups Rather Than Individuals': Women in Politics and Education	110
Chapter Eight	'A Voice in Directing the Affairs of Ireland': L'Irlande Libre , The Shan Van Vocht , Bean na h-Eireann and Maud Gonne	128

Chapter Nine	'Working for What We Believed Would Help Ireland': Lady Gregory	144
Chapter Ten	Custom, Ceremony and Innocence: Elizabeth Bowen's The Last September	165
Conclusion		178
Notes		181
Selected Bibliography		196
Index		203