

CONTENTS

Illustrations	vii
Preface	ix
Acknowledgements	xii
PROLOGUE	I
CHAPTER I 'Round O and Crooked S': The Formative Years	3
CHAPTER II The Great Learning Period: Schoolmaster and Citizen	27
CHAPTER III The Discovery of Anglo-Saxon	45
CHAPTER IV New Life in London	60
CHAPTER V Furnivall's Henchman	87
CHAPTER VI Mill Hill: The Arcadian Years	101
CHAPTER VII The Web is Spun: Abortive Negotiations with Macmillan	133
CHAPTER VIII The Fly is Caught: Negotiations with the Delegates of the Oxford University Press	148
CHAPTER IX 'Sundry Shocks and Serious Jars': The Raw Materials for the Dictionary	171
CHAPTER X Hoc Unum Facio : Solving the Technical Problems	189
CHAPTER XI The Triple Nightmare: Space, Time, and Money	205
CHAPTER XII Editor and Publisher: Confrontation with Benjamin Jowett	215
CHAPTER XIII The Bête Noire of the Press	246

Contents

CHAPTER XIV	Shearing Samson's Locks: The Pace of Production Must Be Increased	262
CHAPTER XV	'Not the Least of the Glories of the University of Oxford'	280
CHAPTER XVI	The Sands Run Out	303
CHAPTER XVII	'The Dic and the Little Dics': The Man and His Family	314
APPENDIX I		342
APPENDIX II		346
ABBREVIATIONS USED IN NOTES		351
NOTES		355
INDEX		378