

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction	1
1 Tragic Method and Tragic Theology	10
Tragic Method: Inquiring into Limits	13
Greek Tragedy: Interpretation and Tragic Action	25
Tragic Theology: The Irreducibility of Evil	36
2 Theological Thinking and the Irreducibility of Evil	49
Augustine: The Evils of Thinking About Evil	52
Reinhold Niebuhr: Sin and the Tragic Ironies of History	64
Paul Tillich: Universal Tragedy and the Demonic	80
3 Rolf Hochhuth: Vocation and Silence	95
Tragic Method in The Deputy : A Drama of Vocation and Integrity	97
“ Il Gran Rifiuto ”: The Social Drama and Its Worlds	105
Tragic Theologies: “Divine creation—shipwrecked”	120
4 Robert Lowell: Blinding History and Promethean Vision	132
Tragic Method: Imitations	134
“Waiting on Providence”: The Old Glory	141
An Interpretive Addendum: Prometheus Bound	168

5	Peter Shaffer: Tragic Accountability and the Drama of Interpretation	176
	Tragic Method: Interpreting the Alien	178
	Equus : Tragic Accountability	186
	Amadeus : Reducing the Irreducible?	201
6	The Tragic and Theological Thinking	216
	Tragedy, Criticism, and Culture: Fragments	218
	Tragedy, Theology, and Negation: Directions	228
	The Tragic as a Religious Dimension: Juxtapositions	243
	Notes	252
	Index of Names	279
	SubjectIndex	282